Two Candidates

Two Possible Futures for 2030 *

by John McFarland

If Skip's Aspirations Are Fully Realized

- In 2030 pedestrian safety is good. The city has lots of multi-use paths. The Arctic Street project was completed in 2026 and is a popular attraction for walkers and skateboarders.
(Most of the credit goes to the Goodwin administration.)
- In 2030 local street flooding is less of an annoyance, but parking and traffic flow remains a problem due to volume.
- In 2030 only residents vote in Folly Beach elections.
- In 2030 95% of all new ISTR Licenses are from the waitlist.
(Inheritance & Medical Hardship exceptions are the other 5%.)
- In 2030 the total number of ISTRs remains fixed at 800.
- By 2030 Skip's Creative Housing Initiative attracts new residents and increases workplace housing opportunities.
- By 2030 Skip's efforts to house Public Safety employees within 30 minutes of Folly has been a game changer, in so many ways.
- By 2030 Skip's Senior Initiatives have brought new health, social and transportation programs to Folly's Seniors.
- The 2030 Census Data shows a population gain.
- In 2030 Skip lives in a growing and thriving community.

* If 100% of Skip Fink's wishlist were realized, based on his written and oral statements during this campaign, the prognostications above are a real possibility.

If Rogers' Aspirations Are Fully Realized *

(Most of the credit goes to the Goodwin administration.)
- In 2030 local street flooding is less of an annoyance, but parking and traffic flow remains a problem due to volume.
- By 2030 4%ers and 6%ers are allowed to vote in F.B. elections.
- By 2030 every pre-cap owner is allowed to convert to an ISTR on demand or sell to a 6%er who can get an ISTR license on demand.
- In 2030 the total number of ISTRs is over 1,200 and increasing.
- In 2030 Long Term Rentals and work force housing options are all but extinct.
- By 2030 retaining Public Safety employees is very difficult.
(The hour long commute, each way, is the prime reason.)
- By 2030 many of the older residents have sold, accelerating the drop in population. (Too much noise and too few neighbors.)
- The 2030 Census Data shows a population decline.
- In 2030 Rogers lives in a shrinking and endangered community.

* If 100% of Jody Lynn Rogers' wishlist were realized, based on her written and oral statements during this campaign, the prognostications above are a real possibility.
